December 2015
AHA Guidelines
Online Update Course

The 2015 AHA Online Instructor Update is Available

Below is the AHA announcement of the release of the 2015 AHA Guidelines Online Instructor Update Course. You should have already received the AHA email, but I've included it below. Please read it carefully and access the link to complete the update course by February 15, 2016 in order to continue teaching as an AHA Instructor. Once you click the link, you will be directed to login using your AHA Instructor Network username and password. Once your Instructor credentials are verified, you will be directed to the landing page for the course where you can choose the course you need based on your instructor discipline. You can also access the course through your Instructor Network Dashboard. The course will take approximately one hour to complete and includes bookmarking capability so it does not have to be completed in one session.

While it is recommended that BLS Instructors who also teach Heartsaver courses complete both update courses to gain a full understanding of the science changes that apply to each, it is not required. At a minimum, BLS Instructors who teach HS courses must access/download the Heartsaver Interim Training Materials from the AHA Instructor Network and use these materials until the new material becomes available.

When you have completed the online update course and evaluation, you will have the opportunity to print a completion certificate. You are required to provide this certificate to us, as your training center, in order to continue teaching as an active instructor. So please either email it to office@lrncpr.com, fax it to 708.596.1818 or mail the completion certificate to us as soon as you have finished the course.

Once you have completed the instructor update you should begin using all the interim materials that were provided in a previous email. These materials are available by clicking the resources link within the online course as well.

We look forward to working together to further AHA's mission to save lives through CPR and ECC training! We recognize that it's not possible without your work every day, and we thank you for your dedication, expertise and passion. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Thanks,
The Training Concepts Team

AHA Announcement:
AHA is pleased to announce that the 2015 AHA Guidelines Online Instructor Update Courses are now available!

These courses, available exclusively to AHA Instructors, may be accessed at the link below in case you haven't received an email directly from AHA. You will be asked to login using your AHA Instructor Network username and password to confirm your AHA Instructor status.

Access Guidelines Update Courses
The 2015 AHA Guidelines Instructor Update Courses

- Provide you necessary updates on new science and key changes published in the 2015 AHA Guidelines Update for CPR and ECC.
- Deliver Interim Training Materials and guidance on how to use these materials to incorporate 2015 science and education updates into current courses until new courses are released.
- Include one course per Instructor discipline: BLS, Heartsaver®, ACLS, PALS, and PEARS® (NOTE: ACLS EP Instructors should complete ACLS).

Completion of the official 2015 AHA Guidelines Instructor Update course for each discipline you teach satisfies the required Instructor update you need to continue teaching AHA courses.

Deadline for Completion:
All US AHA Instructors must complete their required science update by February 15, 2016, in order to continue teaching AHA courses and to teach new courses once new materials are released.

We hope you find the Instructor update courses informative and helpful in understanding the changes to resuscitation science and how they will impact the lifesaving training you provide.

December 2015
AHA Online Instructor Update Course
Announcement